

Ron Lipsman
Professor Emeritus of Mathematics
University of Maryland

Regular Contributor to: The American Thinker, The intellectual Conservative and The Land of the Free

Maryland Center-Right Coalition

November 10, 2011

A presentation discussing the content of the two articles below in which the author outlines the extent to which America has deviated from its founding principles. Professor Lipsman organizes that betrayal along three “tracks”: political, moral and idealistic. He identifies who orchestrated the overthrow of our Constitutional principles and how they did it. He then suggests a strategy for a successful counter attack.
